Extra Walnut Lumber for the Chicago Market.

Morrison & Cavanaugh have a contract to deliver $30,000 worth of first-class walnut lumber to Chicago dealers. This material is now in large demand by new Chicago. Chicago before Mrs. O'Leary's cow kicked over the lamp, used pine or cotton-wood stained in imitation of walnut. Chicago after the fire, uses only the finest walnut for flooring, counters, shelving, window-sills, doors, sash, wainscoting, etc., and the demand for the best article has run up the prices to that point where it pays to transport it from Western Misseuri to Lake Michigan. Charley Morrison is depending upon two mills at present, and expects to be able to ship about eight car-loads of selected lumber each week;-or an amount about equal to Lexington's importations of white pine lumber. The boards are to be not less than twelve by one inch, with an eighth to each square inch for shrinkage and planing. We understood, also, that there is considerable demand at Chicago for walnut stumps and knots for veneering material, but the prices do not yet pay to engage in that line. Even the walnut sawdust is utilized in the unty Court a Justice of the Peace for Davis wicked city. THE TEXAS PRAIRIE PICNIC.

Engrous Carcastan: As I am about leaving the Prairie for an absence of ten or twelve days, I can only give you a synopsis of our Grand Union Picnic of Saturday isst.

The grounds had been prepared for the accommodation of 2,500 or 8,000 persons. The Concord Baptist School and Texas Prairie Christian School were the originators; other schools and the country generally were invited.

The morning was unfavorable, with constant mist and frequent showers. Notwithstanding the dense mist, the crowd commenced gathering about 9 o'clock. A little before 12, the Concord procession came in, in full force; Mr. John Alspaugh its leader in music. The Oas Grove procession was broken up and scattered by a drenching shower that fell in that locality, and consequently were unable to form again in time for the picnic. During the morning showers the Christian School was snugly housed in its church, enjoying the sweetest music that has ever been discoursed on our Prairie; Dr. R. H. Hathaway leader; assisted by Dr. Stapp and lady of the Lone Jack Male and Femsie College; the latter of whom is regarded as one of the best organists in our land. About half past 12, the large and handsome procession was formed. The banner was acknowledged to be the most beautiful thing of the kind ever gotten up in this portion of the state. The banner was borne by G. W. Bates, with Misses Alices for the kind ever gotten up in this portion of the state. The banner was borne by G. W. lowed by five music wagons and a procession of near half a mile in length, offered one of the most beautiful and impressive sights ever presented on Texas Prairie. They entered the grounds singing their welcome song of "Come with Singing." The grounds, containing several acres, were completely encircled by the procession. On nearing the seats the choir sang their favorite song of "Let us firmly stand, Bible in our hand."

The inscription on one side of the banner was, "Texas Prairie Sunday School." On the other, "The Holy Bible," and on its pages, "Search the Scriptures," and over all, arched with this faithful motto, "The Bible Alone."

A portion of the procession was soon scaled, and the different schools sang each two or three pieces, and adjourned for dinner, which was a rived in a bountful manner. Prof. Fleet, of Lexington; Dr. Stapp, of Lone Jack; Rev. Mr. Bolton, and other preachers were present. But the inclemency of the weather prevented any of the evening exercises. This cross was a sore one to the lovers of Sunday school work, but great consolation was taken from the thought that the suffering corn and grass were being greatly benefited by the showers, and thereby all would be better able to hold large picnics another year.

....In Saline county, July 221, at the residence of the bride's father, by Rev. T. N. Gaines, Mr. Joseph C. Weltner, of Malta Bend, and Miss Katle Baker.

Died, In this township, August 4th, of delity, an infant daughter of F. Hoffman. Wm. White, aged 50 years.

In memory of little Arthur, infant sen of Mary and S. A. Clarkson, who died in Greenton Valley, Wednesday, July 16th, 1873: Close the doors with gentle caution, Softly tread across the floor, Draw the curtains close around him— Baby's sorrows now are o'er, Arthur's laugh no more will greet us, His sweet voice no more we'll hear-Ne'er again with soft caresses Now a mother's heart is aching, While the tears her eyes doth fill, For her tittle churnb baby, Now so cold, so white, so still.

Weep not, mother, for thy loved one, Called thus early from thy home, For the Saviour says, in gladness, "Let the children come." He is waiting to receive them In that land so bright and fair; He will take your little darling In His arms and bless him there.

Arthur's voice will join the choir, Singing praises to His name— There you'll see him, not an infant Larger grown and, yes, the same

Gently fold the tiny fingers O'er the cold and pulseless heart; Close the eyes, so soft and tender,— Baby boy has gone to rest.

Lay the little golden ringlet, Back from of that marble brow; Mother, up in heaven behold him, Baby's with the angels now.

Place a rosebud in his flugers, Let him bear it home to God; Softly lower the little coffin— Arthur sleeps beneath the sod. Produce Markets.

We have a word to say in favor of the Missourr Pacific Raliroad. It was the "pioneer" line Westward and is the "old reliable" route to St. Louis. With the improvements which have been made during the past year, we believe that the Missouri Raliroad has the best track and the fluest and safest equipment of any line west of the Mississippi. It runs daily express trains of tine coaches, equipped with the Miller platform and the patent air brake, from Lexington, through Sedalia and Jefferson City to St. Louis, connecting at St. Louis with eleven different through routes to points North, East and South. Particular information, with mags, time tables, &c., may be had at the ticket office of the company in Lexington, or upon personal or written application to E. A.
